English Version of Monodzukuri Test Distribution Notification

To meet great demand, the Monodzukuri Test study guide has been translated into English!
Distribution will start in May 2016. Please choose the study guide in your choice of language from English, the already-available Japanese or Thai.

★The same chapters and page numbers are used in the English, Japanese and Thai versions. You can compare a page in multiple languages. This allows Japanese staff to effectively follow up on your study.

Acquire the necessary knowledge for production sites in five subjects!
What's Monodzukuri Test?

The Monodzukuri Test originated in Japan! It is a certification test for overseas manufacturers. The test was established in 2014 and is currently available only in Thailand, but many company employees in all kinds of industries have taken the test. We are planning to have tests in other regions in the future, but we have decided to distribute the textbook in English prior to administration of the test. Please visit our website for more information about the Monodzukuri Test.
