TPM Excellence workshop 2006

~ Real Examples of True TPM Excellence ~

This workshop is a must for managers who want to boost their TPM activities to the next level! Includes world-class examples of TPM projects as recognized by JIPM, as well as an address by renowned TPM advocate Mr. Seiichi Nakajima!

Centering on the theme of "Personnel in the Manufacturing Workplace," this workshop will offer presentations from leading companies in Japan and around the world. Discussions with managers and opinion leaders will explore the roles of "Enterprise Value" and "Working People."

The seminar will also provide a workshop on personnel training, focusing on how the practice of TPM can improve employee motivation and the contribution of employees' TPM activities to the enterprise bottom line.

Tentative program:

Commemorative addresses	Leading managers from the Japanese business community will deliver addresses on enterprise strategy and orienting the mindset of employees toward improvement.
Advanced examples of manufacturing improvements	1. Advanced examples from a non-Japanese company (Unilever) 2. Advanced examples from Japanese companies (winners of the TPM World Class Award)
The latest on manufacturing in Europe	A dissertation on personnel training in Europe's automobile industry: the training of "change agents"
Panel discussion	Based on the above sessions and a report from the JIPM observation team on enterprise value in Europe ("Manufacturing in Europe and Japan: Personnel Development in the Manufacturing Workplace"), executives and experts from leading manufacturers will discuss the themes of enterprise value and personnel development in manufacturing.
Commemorative addresses	Speaker: Seiichi Nakajima (Member of the TPM Awards Committee and leading advocate of TPM)
